

Transits and Progressions: A Blueprint for Becoming

Your natal chart tells a symbolic story of who you are. It shows you the bones of your soul. And then, the planets move. Day after day, they "progress" as they move around you. Progressions show a slower and more deliberate evolutionary process as the planets tell the story of your spiritual development. They "transit" your chart. Your transits show where the planets are now and how they communicate with your natal chart. Saturn carries a lesson plan for your becoming. Jupiter coaxes you to go beyond your limits. Each planet has designs for you... hopes and promises. In this four hour workshop about transits and progressions, we will discuss the dance of stars as they swirl around you. This workshop will help you understand the opportunities and lessons these great teachers want to offer you.

Participants will receive a copy of their birth chart with progressions and transits. As a bonus, you will also receive a Steven Forrest Sky log (a detailed summary) of your progressions and transits for the 3 months surrounding the workshop. We will need the exact date, time, and location of your birth when you register.
